A Proclamation to Recognize National Child Abuse Prevention Month

A Proclamation on National Child Abuse Prevention Month, 2022

WHEREAS, Every child deserves to live in a safe and loving household; yet, for hundreds of thousands of children across our Nation, abuse and neglect are a tragic reality.

WHEREAS, Child abuse crosses all socioeconomic and educational levels, religions, and ethnic and cultural backgrounds.

WHEREAS, We know that abuse and neglect negatively impact every aspect and stage of a child's life: the ability of students to succeed in school; hinders their ability to forge healthy relationships with their loved ones and peers; and may lead to involvement in the juvenile justice system;

WHEREAS, the American Rescue Plan provided cash assistance to millions of working families and expanded the Child Tax Credit, which lifted millions of children and families out of poverty; supplied critical funding to support State and community child abuse prevention and response efforts; and authorized an additional $250 million for community-based child abuse prevention programs.

WHEREAS, It is also a time to identify and take the necessary steps to address inequities experienced by those who have been historically underserved and adversely affected by continuous poverty and inequality. Reducing child poverty is critical to reducing the disproportional representation of low-income children and families — especially communities of color — in the child welfare system and foster care.

WHEREAS, During National Child Abuse Prevention Month and throughout the year, President Biden calls upon everyone to stand together against child abuse and neglect and show our appreciation of the hardworking child-welfare workforce and allies who are steadfast in their commitment to strengthening families, protecting children, and combating systemic inequities.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Governing Body of the City of Lambertville, in the County of Hunterdon, in the State of New Jersey, that April 2023 is recognized as National Child Abuse Prevention Month.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that by joining together as a Nation to promote the safety and well-being of all children and families and to recognize the child-welfare workforce and allies who work tirelessly to protect our children. And we honor the strength and resilience of adult survivors of child abuse.
